

Support: UCSF Population Health and Health Equity Scholars

UCSF Population Health and Health Equity Scholars

These pilot awards go to support innovative research or programming already underway and led by the scholars. Distributed via various centers and departments, this funding opportunity was established for junior investigators carrying out cutting-edge population health research, and offers opportunities for them to participate in innovative training and other events to showcase their work.

2020 Awardees

Catherine Koss, MD ^[1]

Judy Tan, PhD ^[2]

More information for interested applicants can be found on the Population Health and Equity website ^[3].

Contact Us
UCSF Main Site

© 2020 The Regents of the University of California

Source URL: <https://ari.ucsf.edu/training-and-support/support-ucsf-population-health-and-health-equity-scholars>

Links

[1] <https://profiles.ucsf.edu/catherine.koss>

[2] <https://profiles.ucsf.edu/judy.tan>

[3] <https://pophealth.ucsf.edu/population-health-health-equity-scholars>